Impact Stories

- Adult Services: "You have many wonderful and diverse programs. Every program that I have attended I have enjoyed. The arts programs with Jeff Misher are wonderful as are the historical programs with Clarence Goodman. Every one of the reenactors has been great."
- Youth Services: Youth Services Manager Amanda, Customer Relations Manager Courtney, and Digital Services Manager Steve spent a morning with the Avoca West 3rd grader who won the "Librarian for a Day" prize at Avoca's PTO Fundraising Auction. This is our first time participating in the event and we plan to repeat it again next year!
- Digital Services: A patron brought in 45-year-old VHS tapes and was THRILLED to learn that they were able to convert them to DVD's using library equipment.
- Customer Relations: The ILL team (Customer Relations Assistants Ben & Scott) received a note from a patron regarding their help extending his loan periods with the lending institutions to accommodate his recent trip. He wrote, "I am very grateful for this update, as well as for the extraordinary service. This is just one of the many reasons why I have been a Friend of the Library for many years. Thank you!"
- Northfield Branch: The Library partnered with Village of Northfield to host a Zoom meeting about the Community Solar Program, a statewide green initiative. 9 people attended and the recording was provided to the Village.

COLLECTIONS

Rationale for Digitization Project

- The Winnetka Historical Society maintains the largest, most complete collection of the Winnetka Talks in existence.
- The Winnetka Talks used to be held by the Winnetka Public Library (Date of transfer to WHS unknown)
- Because WHS's collection is unmatched, coupled with the fact that many issues are in unstable condition, it is imperative that the collection be digitized to ensure their survival for present and future use for library patrons, students and researchers.

Rationale

- The Winnetka Historical Society's collection of Winnetka Talks consist of approximately 500,000 pages and spans from 1913 through the present.
- The Winnetka Talk is currently owned by the Tribune Publishing Company. We have not found any evidence that they maintain a digital, hard-copy, or microfilm archive of the periodical.
- The Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library in Springfield, IL has an incomplete collection of Winnetka Talks on microfilm and hard-copy from 1925 through the present.
- The Winnetka/Northfield Public Library maintains an incomplete microfilm collection of the issues published from 1919 through the present.

Unique searchable resource that provides an in depth history of the village from 1913 to the present (full articles, advertisements & photographs)!!

Provides a means for patrons to independently conduct local genealogy research at home and at the library (obituaries, wedding announcements, real estate etc.).

MISS MARY MAGDALENA ALLES, 85, of 763 Hill rd., Winnetka, the last direct descendant of a pioneer Illinois family, will be buried Wednesday in the family plot in old St. Joseph's cemetery. Lake and Ridge roads, Wilmette, after mass in SS. Faith, Hope and Charity church, 191 Linden av., Wilmette. Miss Alles died Saturday [Nov. 14. 1959] in St. Francis hospital, Evanston. Her grandfather, Wendell Alles, and his wife, came to this Indian country in 1795-eight years before

Ray Photo Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ellis, 823 Greenwood avenue, Wilmette, announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherine, to Stuart A. Ludlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ludlow of Evanston.

Provides patrons, researchers, universities and local students with access to primary source material on the village related to business homes, entertainment, family, fashion, health, politics, religion, science, sports, travel and national & world events.

Provides public library and WHS staff with unique resources on the villages past to develop both in-person and digital programs.

Priority for Digitization

The collection has been evaluated by The Digital Archive Group

Category 1: 1968-1990

Rapidly deteriorating due to age, use and poor quality of the original paper. The bindings have released on many volumes and edges of the pages have become brittle and "dog-eared".

Category 2: 1912-1968

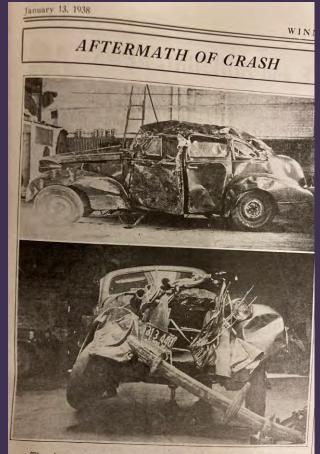

Relatively stable condition but There are age & condition issues for about 40%.

Category 3: 1990-Present

Good to very good condition.

Digitization Plan: Who?

- WHS suggests we utilize The Digital Archive Group (TDAG) company that operates a climate-controlled digitization and storage facility in Buffalo Grove, IL.
- TDAG employs a team of fully trained archivists, image technicians, asset managers, researchers, and metadata specialists.
- TDAG uses a wide variety of state-of-the-art scanning and digitization equipment approved by the National Archives and Smithsonian Institution with the ability to adhere to strict FADGI guidelines.
- TDAG Clients include the Harpo Studios / Oprah Winfrey Image Archive, Billy Graham Archive and Research Center, The Chicago Blackhawks, Brown University, Mount Holyoake College, Jim Beam Brands, John Deere, MetLife and The Chicago Cubs.

The above reproductions of police photographs show the condition of two automobiles involved in an accident on the afternoon of January 1, at Hibbard road and Ashland avenue, Wilmette. Four persons were seriously injured in the collision.

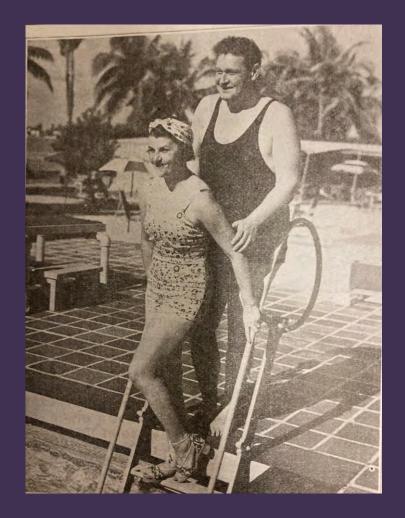

Cost Estimate

Phase	Description	Cost
1	Digitize Category 1 (Approximately 130,00 pages)	$62,400
2	Digitize Category 2 (Approximately 200,000 pages)	$92,000
3	Digitize Category 3 (Approximately 147,900 pages)	$62,118
	TOTAL Digitization	$200,718
	PDF Searchable Conversion for All	$66,906
	Hard Drives	$250
	TOTAL Project Cost	$267,874

Estimates for an ANNUAL Hosting fee range from $4,000-$7,000 to allow for searchability to library patrons.

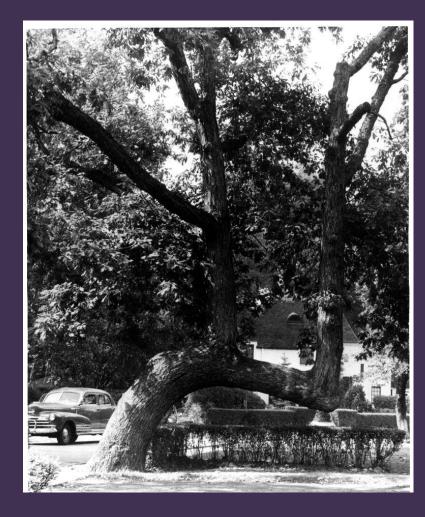

Recommendations

- WHS manages the digitization portion of the project.
- WHS continues to store and care for the hard-copy collection of the Winnetka Talks in a climate controlled storage facility after the digitization project is complete.
- The Winnetka-Northfield Public Library fund the majority of the cost to digitize and convert files into searchable documents.
- We recommend that Winnetka-Northfield Public Library fund the annual hosting fees and include WHS staff as administrators to the hosting site.
